Excerpt of pertinent information:

Petre VASILEASU, who is now named Mircea VASILACHE, is not too well off. His November (1949) trip to...Germany, in order to see...General RADESCU, was not very successful. I suspect that the insuccess of his maneuvers id due, partly, to the fact that General RADESCU had the occasion to size him up when they met. . . OFRAN wrote to me from Paris that the General allegedly gave him $1,000, which I suppose was intended for Resistance and for Refugees. . . Here(in Turkey) "Mircea" has had a continous and consistent anti-Communist attitude. We were all together in the local (Rumanian) Committee, where "Mircea" was continuously boasting of and using his correspondence with General RADESCU. . . He (Mircea) engaged in those maneuvers "in the name of the President (RADESCU)", bu he had no proof, outside of his verbal claim, that he had been entrusted with such a mission which, therefore, was doubtful.

This is all of the pertinent information on subject in this document.
